Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 21 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Wet and windy today, then sunshine and showers on Saturday.

Today:
A wet and windy day for most, with prolonged rain, heavy at times, throughout. Starting to clear by the end of the day, though heavy showers may start appearing in the north of the region. Colder than normal for May. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain clearing eastwards through the night, leaving the area largely cloudy but dry by the early hours. Winds slowly easing. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
Cloudy but dry to start. Cloud thinning through the day but scattered showers will develop. Much less windy than Friday and slightly less cold. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday dry with sunny spells to start before a band of rain moves through late in the day. Monday widespread showers, sometimes heavy. Tuesday dry and bright with scattered showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.